MRS. AVERILL HONORED BY TEXAS WOMEN; MISS MAYFIELD WEDDED TO F. M. BEALL

Mrs. A. P. Averill, of El Paso, has been chosen by the nominating committee of the State Federation of Women's Clubs as the candidate for recording secretary of the state federation. This office is next to the presidency in importance and the members of the El Paso Woman's club feel greatly honored that an El Paso woman should be selected for it. Mrs. Averill's candidacy will be announced at all of the district conventions, which will be held the last of this month.

The first announcement will be made at the fifth district convention in San Antonio, which begins its meetings Monday. The honor conferred upon Mrs. Averill was announced at the business meeting of the Woman's club Wednesday afternoon, held in the auditorium of the high school. Mrs. A. W. Foster presided.

The yearly reports of the officers were read. Mrs. Charles R. Stevens, the recording secretary, read her report. The report of the treasurer, Mrs. S. H. Sutherland, showed the club to be in a splendid financial condition. The club has paid over $1500 on the club house building debt, leaving only a note of $300 remaining to be paid. It has also contributed $100 to the state federation endowment fund, thereby putting Mrs. Olga Kohlberg on the honor roll of the state. The club contributed $25 to the chamber of commerce fund and $15 to the building fund of the state scenic home for delinquent girls and has a balance in the treasury.

Mrs. H. F. Wright, the corresponding secretary, reported her work and announced the convention of the fifth district, to which El Paso belongs. It will be held in San Antonio next week.

Miss Grace Virginia Logan reported as chairman of the press committee and suggested that a scrapbook be started for all newspaper notices of the club meetings and activities.

Mrs. Olga Kohlberg's report as chairman of the finance and auditing committee was read by Mrs. H. F. Wright.

Mrs. S. L. Pennington's report as chairman of the club house committee was read by Mrs. C. B. Stevens.

Mrs. George Brunner's report as chairman of the music department was read.

MISS FRANCES BLYTHE MAYFIELD and Francis Mirick Beall were married Wednesday night in the First Baptist church. Rev. J. F. Williams performed the ceremony, using the ring service.

A beautiful setting for the bridal party was arranged with quantities of palms and ferns on graduated tiers banking the rostrum, with a blaze of candles in seven branches candelabra in the center. About the edge of the rostrum was a row of candles in brass sticks and between the candles and the ferns were potted calla lilies in blossom. The row of lighted candles extended about the railing of the choir loft on either side of the rostrum, which were massed with palms and ferns and among these, and through the palms on the rostrum were large gracefully shaped white baskets, filled with white carnations, apple blossoms or calla lilies and carnations. The baskets of flowers also were used in the windows of the church. A mass of amaranth vines trailed gracefully over the organ pipes, the back-ground of the rostrum and the ceiling, giving a most pleasing effect. The service was festooned about the railing of the choir loft and on the posts of the railing were large butterfly bows of white tulle. The white tulle bows also were tied on alternate seats up and down the church aisles.

Miss Julia Pool presided at the organ and played selections from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" preceding the entrance of the bridal party. Miss Pool wore a gown of pink silk, made in empire style with an over-drapery of white net trimmed in iridescent beads.

The strains of the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" announced the coming of the bride party.

The groomsmen entered in couples. They were Carl A. Beers, Charles A. Brandberg, William W. Carroll and J. Davis Mayfield. The minister and the groom, with his best man, Tom Mayfield, entered from the choir door and awaited the bride, the groomsmen standing facing the congregation.

Miss Walker McCellan led the bridesmaids, who were Miss Hildegard Sauer and Miss Eleanor Eubanks. They were dressed alike in dainty costumes of white net, made with light fitting pink satin bodices, with very full skirts of white net, trimmed with bands of pink satin ribbons, with a pattern of frilled satin ribbon, trimming between the horizontal bands. They pink rose buds formed an ornamental band about the waist line. The skirts were made ankle length and were worn with pink satin slippers. A frill of the white net trimmed the low cut necks and formed a small puff over the shoulders. The hats were of pale pink tulle, with a small wreath of tiny moss rose buds. A large wide bow ornamented the back of the hats and from there a long streamer of the tulle extended to the right wrist, where it was attached with a bracelet of moss rose buds. The bridesmaids carried very large bouquets of long stemmed Easter lilies and ferns, tied with wide streamers of embroidered net.

Mrs. W. D. Mayfield was her daughter's matron of honor. She wore a costume of pale pink, with a train of pink satin. The gown was made with a train and was trimmed with a shoulder drape of real lace. The edge of the neck was trimmed with a band of pink lilies. She carried a large bouquet of Easter lilies.

The two little flower girls, Evelyn Jamieson and Virginia Gardner, preceded the bride, scattering rose petals in her path. They were dressed alike in dainty frocks of white organdy, with pink roses trimming the necks and a pattern of frilled pink satin ribbon ornamenting the skirt full skirts. Their dainty flower baskets of straw were held by handles of pink tulle, tied with large butterfly bows.

The bride entered with her father, William Davis Mayfield, who gave her in marriage. She wore a costume of heavy ivory white satin made to high waisted effect with a full skirt. The waist was made with a small jacket effect ornamented in a pattern of Easter lilies, formed of pearls, and ropes and festoons of pearls trimmed the edge of this. A pattern of lilies, in pearl beads ornamented the front panel of the gown. The long mousseline sleeves were made of white tulle and there was a high Mohel collar of real rose point lace. From the little jacket bodice fell a long pointed train of heavy white satin. She wore a necklace of pearls with a small pearl pendant. The bride veil was worn over her face and was attached to her hair with bands of pearls. The veil was of hand made rose point lace. She carried a large bouquet of long stemmed Easter lilies combined with ferns and tied with broad white satin streamers.

The bridal party left the church to the music of the wedding march by Mendelssohn from "The Midsummer Night's Dream."

Following the service a wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Montana street. The bride and groom, with Mr. and Mrs. Mayfield, received the guests. The rooms were attractively decorated with potted pink azalea plants and apple blossoms.

An ice course was served in the dining room. The table was very prettily arranged with a large gift basket, filled with bride's roses and Easter lilies in the center. The table was covered with a lace cloth over green satin and broad bands of green satin extended across the table, finishing in large bows. The wedding cake was made by the bride's mother and was heart shaped with elaborate white frosting. The bride was showered with pink and white heart shaped confetti as she cut the wedding cake. The ribbons were attached to narrow white satin ribbons under the cake. In pulling these, the ring was found by Miss Alice Wolff. Miss Irene Laughlin found the dime, the thimble was on the ribbon pulled by Miss Julia Pool and the button was drawn by Miss Edith Morgan.

A number of the younger set assisted in the dining room in serving. Among these were Misses Laura and Ethel, Clara Pink, Luelah Williams and Estelle Berrien.

The bride couple received a large number of handsome silver and cut glass wedding gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Beall will be at home to their friends after May first at their new home, 2411 Montana street.

Dinners, Luncheons, Teas.

Mrs. Eldred D. Warfield was hostess at a pretty luncheon given Wednesday afternoon in the tea room. Apple blossoms were used as table decorations. The guests were Mesdames Omar Bundy, John L. Hines, George D. Gayer, Alfred W. Bjornstad and Henry C. Bonycastle.

Mrs. Will T. Owen, newly elected chairman of the music department of the Woman's club, was the guest of honor at a delightful luncheon given Wednesday by the retiring chairman, Mrs. George Brunner, at her home on Mesa avenue. Purple iris blossoms, in a tall cutglass vase, tied with purple tulle, formed the table centerpiece and covered bouquets of violets and Cecil Brunner roses were at each guest's plate. A five course luncheon was served. The guests were Mesdames Will T. Owen, O. G. Becker, J. J. Parker, S. J. Pennington, Ralph M. Henderson, A. F. Stevens and Parvin Witte.

BAKING CO.

Don't you want to make biscuits like this?

- browned perfectly on top, without being baked hard;
 - a top crust that is velvety in texture;
 - white as snow inside, breaking open with an appetizing softness;
 - and so light in weight that you wonder how they can be made.
- That is exactly the kind of biscuits made with

Cottolene

The one great test of any shortening is with biscuits.

Use Cottolene—use a third less than of any ordinary shortening. It creams up quickly; it mixes easily; it blends perfectly with the flour.
